

Biography

Over the half term, please research a member of your family as you will be writing a biography about them in your next Big Write (the first Monday after the half-term). Your family member could be your parents' grandparent who fought in World War One or a family member you visit on a regular basis; you could even write about your parents if you wish.

To help you with your research, maybe draw a timeline like we did in class (dates are important here). Think about the headings below when recording your research:

- Early life
- Growing up and moving on
- Adult life
- Aspirations for the future or past achievements

Please remember to bring your research in with you on Monday 25th April.
